The Drawback.
"I fold mine hands and stand and wait and know mine own shall come to me—unless a copper catches on and pinches me for vagrancy."—Houston Post.

Browning Temporarily Forgotten.
Professor Underdon (at the Boston Browning Club)—No, my hearers, we can not linger too lovingly on the grand words and refining thoughts of our great master of—"Child of the House (entering suddenly)—"John L.'s goin' by, 'if yer wan' ter see him." (Club suddenly adjourns to the window.)—Puck.

RECIPES, BOOK AND CAREFUL DIAGNOSIS AND OPINIONS FREE OF ALL FORMS OF DISEASES OF MEN. WORTH $10.00.

By an eminent physician of 52 years' experience, forty years of nothing but Chronic Diseases. If you are suffering from Sexual Weakness, Liver, Kidney, Bladder, or Stomach Trouble, or Nervous Disease of any form, in fact it matters not what ails you, write, enclosing two stamps, and you will get my careful opinion of your case, Book and Recipes free. Address: Andrew B. Spinney, 4 Adams Avenue, West, Detroit, Mich.

Good Reason.
A certain Mr. Thelwall, who was on his trial at the Old Bailey for high treason, during the evidence for the prosecution wrote the following note and sent it to his counsel: "Mr. Erskine, I am determined to plead my case myself." Mr. E. wrote under it, "If you do, you will be hanged." To which T. immediately returned this reply: "I'll be hanged if I do."

Didn't Conform.
"Well," said the grouchy old dad, "here is the money you've been coaxing me for. I ought not give you a cent, but I'm doing it to get rid of you. You are a spendthrift, sir—a spendthrift. But remember—a fool and his money are soon parted." "I don't see how you make that out, gov-nor," answered the youngster, pocketing the check. "I've been tormenting you for this money for more than two weeks."

Ideal Temperature of Room.
An ideal room temperature for the sedentary is that between 66 and 70 degrees. Below these temperatures the heat regulating apparatus of the body finds it necessary to close up the peripheral vessels more or less, internal congestion slowly begins and the conditions for a cold are secured.

Little Raymond's Plan.
Little Raymond was fond of tomatoes. His mother always insisted that he not ask for a second helping, especially when there were strangers present. One day the family had a young man as a dinner guest and he and the small boy of the family got real chummy before dinner. Along about dinner time Raymond cornered the young man and said, in a whisper: "Say, do you like tomatoes?" The young man thought that was a strange question, but he smilingly admitted that he was not overfond of them. "Well, you sit next to me at the table and don't tell mamma that you don't like 'em. Then when I eat mine I'll just reach over and take yours."

Fashions in Smiles.
Let me see. Is there anything more worth setting down about this expiring season? Oh, yes; expression of face. A slightly puzzled look, with the lips parted in a half smile, has been quite popular. The baby stare is out, and wide smiles are distinctly demodes. A small, tired smile is always correct as the season wanes. Of course, I'm speaking of those who dare to have any expression at all. There are lots of women (not so young as they would like to be) who simply banish both joy and sorrow, for fear of what a poet would call "Lines on a fair face." It's no use bestowing any of one's little funniments on these people.—Ina Garvey in "A Comedy of Mammon."

Sore Throat Wisdom

If every mother could realize the danger that lurks behind every case of sore throat, she would not wait until she had a cure every time a child has it. Your family physician will verify the statement that it is a positive fact that every child with sore throat is in immediate danger of contracting Croup, Quinsy, Tonsillitis or Diphtheria, and is not removed from the danger until the throat is cured. Think of it! Liniments or outward applications of medicines do not and cannot cure the ailment, though they may offer temporary relief. Neither can you cure sore throats with a cough syrup or a cold cure.

To cure, you must get at the seat of the disease, removing the cause. Nothing does that so quickly, safely and surely as TONSILINE. A single dose of TONSILINE taken upon the first appearance of sore throat may save long weeks of sickness, great expense, worry, even death. TONSILINE is the stitch in time.

Use a little sore throat wisdom and buy a bottle of TONSILINE today. You may need it tomorrow.

TONSILINE is the standard sore throat remedy—best known and most effective and most used. Look for the long necked fellow on the bottle when you go to the drug store to get it. 25 cents and 50 cents. Hospital Size $1.00. All Druggists.
